

Lillian Harris, President and Chief Executive Officer, Man-Machine Systems Assessment, Board of Advisors – Luke's Wings

Lilly is a native of El Paso, Texas, and currently holds the position of President and CEO of Man - Machine Systems Assessment, Incorporated (MSA). Founded in El Paso and headquartered in Washington, D.C., MSA is government services provider in the areas of Test and Evaluation and Homeland Security. Before stepping into her current role at MSA Lillian had the opportunity to develop an innate business acumen by serving as MSA's Marketing Director, Human Resources Director, Chief Financial Officer and Executive Vice President since her employment began in 2003. Since taking the helm in 2008, Ms. Harris has steered the company on a path of expansion and innovation, adding four new business lines, increasing revenue by 40% and streamlining production and management processes. These ambitious leaps forward have earned MSA recognition in 2009 and 2010 as "one of the fastest growing companies in the United States" by both Inc Magazine and Hispanic Business Magazine. Even more impressively, MSA revenues totaled more than $10 million in 2010.

Ms. Harris' accomplishments have also earned significant personal recognition. In 2007, she was named a "Woman of Excellence" by the National Association of Professional and Executive Women. In 2009, the Washington Business Journal conferred on Ms. Harris the "Rising Star – Women Who Mean Business" award along with the further recognition as a "Minority Business Leader" in 2010.

"I have a passion for learning and connecting with people" Lillian says when asked about what drives her towards success, " I am an active goal setter and operate with the mindset that anything is possible with hard work and determination."

Lillian's interests and activities extend far beyond the boardroom into the local, national and international communities. A Junior Achievement Volunteer, Lilly teaches and encourages entrepreneurship and economics to select students at Kenmore Middle School. As one of the team captains and top fundraisers for Blondes versus Brunettes from 2007 to 2010, Lilly has helped raise over twenty-five thousand dollars to benefit and support the Alzheimer's Association. In September 2009, she traveled to the remote and volatile Kibera Slums in Kenya as a volunteer teacher and mentor to children at the "Drug Fighter's" elementary school. Lillian also serves on the Board of Director for Cross-Cultural Thresholds and the Board of Governors for Hispanic CREO. Lillian views these opportunities to give back to her community as her duty as a citizen, and has integrated these values into the corporate culture of MSA. The company has underwritten 'Fashion Takes Flight' the major fundraiser for local wounded veterans support non-profit Luke's Wings in 2009 and 2010. Ever a supporter of entrepreneurship, she takes time to advise a small start up film production company based in Connecticut.

Ms. Harris holds a Bachelors of Arts in Psychology from Texas Tech University and Certificates in Film Production and Producing from New York University, and is enrolled in the class of 2013 Harvard Business School's Owner/President Management (OPM).
