

Michelle J. Yi – Regional Director, Rocky Mountain West Region

Denver, Colorado

Directly oversees operations for Fort Carson, Colorado

Michelle is Luke's Wings' Director of Regional Operations in Colorado and the Rocky Mountain West where she is the in-state liaison on behalf of the organization. She also served as Luke's Wings' Director of Public Relations prior to her current role for the group.

As a Colorado native, Michelle grew up with a deep appreciation for our service officers as the state has two army and four air force major installations. Michelle is currently the Finance Director at the Colorado Republican Committee. Previously, she was an Account Manager at DCI Group, a public affairs firm, in Washington, D.C.

Prior to working at DCI Group, Michelle was an aide in the communications department for the Mitt Romney Presidential Campaign in Boston, Massachusetts. Before joining the Romney campaign, she served as the Deputy Director of Gubernatorial Appointments for Governor Romney's Administration in the Massachusetts State House.

Michelle has completed the Boston Marathon for charity and has been involved in numerous causes at leadership positions.

Michelle is a graduate of Boston University with a degree in political science.
